CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Dear Friends in Christ,

There are some books that I have read more than once. The Lord of the Rings by J. R. R. Tolkien is one of these. I have read this book every couple of years since I was in college. As many times as I have read it, I always seems to find something or see something I never had before. Sometimes I reread a book because the story is so good I want to hear it again because good stories are meant to be repeated. Usually I will reread a book because there are things that I have forgotten or of which I need to be reminded.

The book that I am now reading again is The Cloister Walk by Kathleen Norris. One of the reasons I like this book so much is because it stops and makes me think; however, as much as I like it, it also deeply troubles me. I do not always like to hear the things she has to say nor do I want to think about them. It bothers me because it calls for me to take a look at my life. It calls me to look at certain aspects of my life that I would rather just skip over because it is too painful for me to have to ponder. It reminds me all too well of what I should be doing and what I actually am doing.

I know many of you struggle with the same things I do. One area where almost all of us struggle is with time. Time is a precious gift and yet we often treat it as if there is no end to the amount of time we have. Many of us are constantly looking ahead, we are constantly looking toward tomorrow, we are constantly looking forward to the light at the end of the tunnel and in the process we miss out on the moment(s) that are at hand. Let me share with you one thought from her book but before I do please realize I'm not going to make some grand concluding remark. What I pray you will do is to think about it. Pray about it. Maybe you want to cut it out put it on your refrigerator, in your Bible, or on your mirror and read it from time to time because it is meant to be read and thought about and shared over and over.

“In our culture, time can seem like an enemy: it chews us up and spits us out with appalling ease. But the monastic perspective welcomes time as a gift from God, and seeks to put it to good use rather than allowing us to be used up by it. A friend who was educated by the Benedictines has told me that she owes to them her sanity with regard to time. ‘You never really finish anything in life,’ she says, ‘and while that’s humbling, and frustrating, it’s all right. The Benedictines, more than any other people I know, insist there is time in each day for prayer, for work, for study, and for play.’”

FAMILY PHOTO BOARD

IS YOUR PICTURE UP TO DATE???

The picture board in the entryway is a great way for people using our building to see who our members are. In addition to that it is a handy tool when you forget someone's name or are trying to describe someone to another person. However, there is one small problem with the board: it isn't complete. There are some people who do not have their pictures on the board. Some of you have not had a new picture taken here at the church in years. In order to update the board we are asking you to give us a hand. You can help by bringing a family picture in on a jump/thumb drive or an SD Card. You can email us a picture. This can be a professional picture or just one you have snapped in your favorite setting. Some Sunday morning or evening ask Ken Harper, John Harro, or Pastor Randy and they will take your picture with the church camera.

WOMEN'S BIBLE STUDY

The Women's Bible study meets Fridays at 9:30 AM.

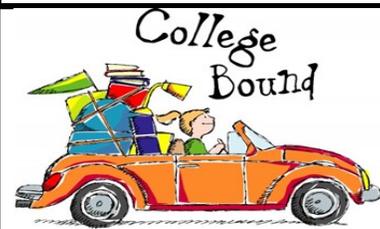

They are using "The Story:

COLLEGE ADDRESSES

If you have children in college or the military please email or phone the church office with their address. This information allows us to send them the Nugget and our Annual Christmas Care Package. Even if the address is the same as last year, please provide us with this information.

FOOD PANTRY

"For I was hungry, and you gave me something to eat."

Matthew 25:35
